Profile

Im a motivated and adaptable bitch. I am great with teamwork and enjoy interrogation, reception and distribution of information, work related as well as personal dramatics, shining in leading positions though confidentiality is always a debatable. I appreciate a challenge and enjoy rising to beat expectations, and am quite happy to trip anyone up to get what I need. I have an extensive knowledge and working history in the mechanical engineer associate lawyer overseeing specialist electrical farming production field. But I'm not just a boring bitch! I can also name every winner of RuPauls drag race and tell you if your look isn't polished and your clothes are ugly and should be burned. As an employee you can be assured that I will work work work work work (or work bitch, if that's more your iced frappuccino) and as my employer bitch better have my money. I digress, i'm hard working and powerful in business, as well as driven and honest and loyal and funny and basically I'm just a great example to set for your company. I hold a great status among my community and

Experience

Completed within a few months while working full time I'm that talented hunny

Skills

Im great at shutting up and driving, and always keep my eye on everything so I can like totally pause. I am excellent at delegating and am really good at staying in control. I have an extremely creative mind and can come up with well thought out solutions, instead of basic crap like florals in spring. I am very proficient with the use of computers and as a typist I'm very quick, like reply in 4 seconds if the tea is hot babe. I'm also over 6ft and have big muscles from lifting weights and other gym stuff, so I have lift heavy things so qualify as a pedigree male as well as looking dead intimidating if you need the creeps to leave

References

Naomi Campbell threw a Nokia flip phone at me in 2006, but that stunning bitch will deny all

Cher Horowitz, Regina George, Miranda Priestly, hunny please.

Original Cher, Britney, Rihanna, honestly... Love

And of course Oprah is everything

I basically like speak in references you know, like there's an art to it and I see it as like my duty to keep iconic moments in pop culture. Besides is there anything more important? Seriously...
